

Specialty Care for the Uninsured

Project Access helps uninsured people with limited resources get needed specialty care.

Project Access is a specialty care referral network that coordinates with physician specialists, diagnostic facilities, and local hospitals to arrange timely and affordable specialty care for people who have low incomes and no health insurance. Patients are referred to Project Access from local health clinics and Nexus Montgomery partner hospitals.

Project Access nurses triage requests and arrange for care based on the urgency and severity of the case. Project Access case managers schedule appointments with participating physician specialists and follow up with patients to ensure they have everything they need before the appointment. Specialist offices send reports, orders, and prescriptions back to Project

Access, which helps to coordinate care and arrange for testing and medications. Once patients' specialty care is complete, they continue to receive primary care through their home clinic. Patients who are referred directly from a hospital and do not already have a home clinic are connected to health centers serving the uninsured in our community.

Through Nexus Montgomery and Project Access, more uninsured people can access the specialty care they need.
